DOS NAMES ASSISTANT REGIONAL DIRECTORS FOR DALLAS, SAN FRANCISCO REGIONS

The Board of Directors of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation today announced the appointment of assistant regional directors for the Division of Supervision (DOS). Calvin B. Riddick will serve in Dallas and J. George Doerr will serve in San Francisco.

DOS Director Paul G. Fritts said: "Both Calvin and John have extensive experience in bank regulation and supervision. Their abilities will be put to good use in their new positions."

At the time of their appointments Mr. Riddick was Chief of the Assistance Transaction Section in the Failing Banks Section of DOS in Washington. Mr. Doerr was Key Review Examiner in the San Francisco Region.

Mr. Riddick, 44, a native of Chesapeake, Virginia, came to the FDIC in January 1968 in the former Richmond Region. He was assigned to the Raleigh, North Carolina, Field Office. He was promoted to Review Examiner (EDP) in 1978. In 1981, after announcement that the Richmond Regional Office would be closed, he transferred to the Dallas Regional Office as a review examiner. In July 1986 he transferred to Washington, D.C. as a specialist in the Failing Banks and Assistance Transactions (FBAT) Section. In August 1988 he was promoted to Chief of the Assistance Transactions Section, the position he held at the time of his current reassignment.

Mr. Riddick is a graduate of Old Dominion University, Norfolk, Virginia, with a B.A. degree in economics, and of the Bank Administration Institute School for Bank Administration at the University of Wisconsin in Madison. He and his wife, Anna, have four children.

Mr. Doerr, 41, a native of Hercules, California, joined the FDIC in June 1970 as an assistant examiner in the San Francisco Field Office. He was promoted to commissioned examiner in April 1975. In August 1979 he was promoted to review examiner in the San Francisco Regional Office and was appointed Key Review Examiner in April 1984, the position he held at the time of his current reassignment.

Mr. Doerr earned a B.S. degree in business administration from St. Mary's College in Moraga, California, graduating magna cum laude. He is also an honors graduate of the Pacific Coast Banking School at the University of Washington. His graduate thesis, "Piercing the Interstate Veil," has been placed in the permanent library at the school.

When he is not busy with his FDIC career, Mr. Doerr is active in community theater. He appeared in eight plays from 1987 to 1989 at five different theaters. He and his wife, Kathie, and their four children, also have appeared in several other productions.
