FDIC APPROVES DEPOSIT ASSUMPTION OF SECURITY STATE BANK, ROOSEVELT, OKLAHOMA

The Board of Directors of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation has approved the assumption of the deposit liabilities of Security State Bank, Roosevelt, Oklahoma, by First National Bank in Altus, Altus, Oklahoma.

The failed bank's two offices will reopen on Friday, August 7, 1987, as branches of First National Bank in Altus, and its depositors automatically will become depositors of the assuming bank, subject to approval by the appropriate court.

Security State Bank, with total assets of $18.1 million, was closed on Thursday, August 6, 1987, by Wayne H. Osborn, Oklahoma Bank Commissioner, and the FDIC was named receiver.

First National Bank in Altus will assume about $16.1 million in 4,000 deposit accounts and has agreed to pay the FDIC a purchase premium of $112,000. It also will purchase certain of the failed bank's assets for $1.9 million. To facilitate the transaction, the FDIC will advance about $14.9 million to the assuming bank and will retain assets of the failed bank with a book value of about $16.2 million. First National Bank in Altus will have an option to purchase any of the assets retained by the FDIC. The exercise of this option is expected to reduce the FDIC's net cash outlay.

The Board of Directors approved the deposit assumption under its authority to do so whenever it determines that such a transaction will reduce the potential loss to the FDIC.

The FDIC will recover a portion of its outlay through the liquidation of assets not transferred to the assuming bank. In this respect, the FDIC notes that its claim will have priority over the claims of nondepositor creditors and shareholders of the closed bank.
