FDIC APPROVES DEPOSIT ASSUMPTION OF SAM HOUSTON NATIONAL BANK OF WALKER COUNTY, HUNTSVILLE, TEXAS

The Board of Directors of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation has approved the assumption of the deposit liabilities of Sam Houston National Bank of Walker County, Huntsville, Texas, by The Huntsville National Bank, Huntsville, Texas.

The failed bank's sole office will reopen on Friday afternoon, January 22, 1988, as a branch of The Huntsville National Bank and its depositors automatically will become depositors of the assuming bank, subject to approval by the appropriate court.

Sam Houston National Bank of Walker County, with total assets of $38.2 million, was closed on Thursday, January 21, 1988, by Robert J. Herrmann, Senior Deputy Comptroller of the Currency, and the FDIC was named receiver.

The Huntsville National Bank will assume about $37.5 million in 4,100 deposit accounts and has agreed to pay the FDIC a purchase premium of $1,000. It also will purchase certain of the failed bank's loans and other assets for $3.3 million and will have a 60-day option to purchase additional assets. To facilitate the transaction, the FDIC will advance about $34.2 million to the assuming bank and will retain assets of the failed bank with a book value of about $34.9 million.

The Board of Directors approved the deposit assumption under its authority to do so whenever it determines that such a transaction will reduce the potential loss to the FDIC.

The FDIC will recover a portion of its outlay through the liquidation of assets not transferred to the assuming bank. In this respect, the FDIC notes that its claim will have priority over the claims of shareholders of the closed bank.
