FDIC ANNOUNCES DEPOSIT ASSUMPTION OF THE INA STATE BANK, INA, ILLINOIS

The Board of Directors of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation today announced that the deposit liabilities of The Ina State Bank, Ina, Illinois, have been assumed by First Bank and Trust Company, Mount Vernon, Illinois. The bank premises will be operated as a community service facility and will reopen on Saturday, April 9, 1983. All depositors of the closed bank automatically will become depositors of the assuming bank. The appropriate court has approved the transaction.

The Ina State Bank was closed on April 8, 1983, by Illinois Commissioner of Banks and Trust Companies William C. Harris and the FDIC was named receiver. Commissioner Harris said: "The bank became insolvent due to excessive loan losses and the inability to generate sufficient income to provide adequate capital to insure safety to depositors."

The deposit assumption was made possible with assistance from the FDIC and avoids the necessity for a payoff of the estimated 4,500 accounts in the failed bank. It also prevents possible financial loss to the owners of deposits that exceed the statutory insurance limit of $100,000.

In addition to assuming about $16.3 million in deposits and other liabilities, First Bank and Trust Company has agreed to pay the FDIC a purchase premium of $1.14 million. The assuming bank will purchase the failed bank's securities and certain other assets. To facilitate the transaction, the FDIC will advance cash amounting to $9.1 million to the assuming bank. In addition, the FDIC will retain assets of the failed bank with a book value of $11.8 million.

The FDIC approved the deposit assumption under its authority to do so whenever it determines that such a transaction will reduce the potential loss to the Corporation. The Board of Directors made such a finding in this case because of the premium paid by First Bank and Trust Company. The FDIC expects to recover a substantial portion of its outlay through the liquidation of assets not transferred to the assuming bank. In this respect, the FDIC notes that its claim will have priority over the claims of the shareholders of the closed bank.
