The Bank Customer's Publication

January 1981

How the FDIC Offers Protection To Consumers:

- By insuring bank customers' deposits up to $100,000
- By regulating insured State-chartered banks that are not members of the Federal Reserve System (insured State non-member banks)
- By having FDIC bank examiners promote and maintain the safety and soundness of the banking system through examinations
- By having FDIC examiners ensure that the banks are complying with the federal consumer protection and civil rights laws.

If you had to take a quiz on how much you know about consumer credit laws, how high would you score?

If you feel that you would not score well on such a quiz, read this newsletter and those that follow. This is the first edition of a monthly newsletter to be published by FDIC to help educate bank customers about the consumer credit and civil rights laws.

VIEWPOINT

WHAT YOU SHOULD KNOW ABOUT YOUR CREDIT REPORT

Many people have probably never reviewed a copy of their credit report. In this automated age when computers store extensive information on individuals, it is imperative that you understand the nature and extent of information maintained and provided by credit reporting agencies.

A typical credit report contains a consumer's name, current and previous address, employer's name and address, social security number, year of birth, and the name of the consumer reporting agency.

In the sample credit profile provided with this newsletter, which the TRW Information Services Division has allowed us to use, the right hand column contains a detailed explanation of the computer codes which may be used in a report. The code numbers are different for each reporting agency and you should ask the credit agency to interpret these codes if you do not understand them.

It is important that you understand the "payment profile" because any payment received after the date specified in the loan contract is reflected in the credit report. Potential creditors often interpret this information to mean possible delinquency in meeting credit obligations. This is sufficient reason under the consumer credit laws for a lender to deny a request for credit.

This information may also include late payments which occurred as much as seven years earlier. Other adverse information may include any judgments or bankruptcies. The law regarding bankruptcies was recently changed and the length of time this information may be reported by credit agencies is now 10 years instead of 14 years.

The Fair Credit Reporting Act is enforced by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation on nonmember banks and was passed by Congress to ensure consumer protection against unfair or inaccurate consumer reports. If you discover that a consumer report is inaccurate, the law requires that the credit reporting agency reinvestigate and correct or update the information. The agency must also notify anyone who received inaccurate or incomplete information. You may request the credit agency to add to your credit record a statement describing any dispute or disagreement, so that it will be furnished to anyone requesting credit information about you.

Although all agencies' policies vary, some will provide the consumer with a copy of his or her credit report upon request and free of charge, if the consumer is denied credit. If the consumer is not denied credit but wishes to examine his or her file, the agency usually will charge the consumer between $3 and $5 for a copy.

LO QUE USTED DEBE SABER SOBRE SU INFORME DE CREDITO

Muchas personas jamás han examinado una copia de su informe de crédito. En la presente era de automatización cuando las computadoras almacenan información extensa sobre individuos, es imperativo que usted conozca la naturaleza y amplitud de la información que es mantenida y suministrada por las agencias de información de crédito.

Un informe de crédito típico incluye el nombre del consumidor, la dirección corriente y las direcciones previas, el nombre y la dirección del patrón, el número del seguro social, la fecha de nacimiento, y el nombre de la agencia de información sobre el consumidor.

Incluimos en este boletín un modelo de un informe de crédito. Este modelo incluye en la columna derecha una explicación detallada de los números claves de la computadora que pueden ser asignados a un informe. Usted debe indicarle a la agencia de información de crédito que le suministre una explicación de los números claves, ya que éstos pueden ser diferentes en cada agencia.

Es importante que usted conozca el historial de pagos en un préstamo, ya que cualquier pago recibido después de la fecha especificada en el contrato del préstamo puede ser incluido en el informe de crédito. Los acreedores frecuentemente interpretan esta información como un factor indicador de morosidad en el cumplimiento con las obligaciones de crédito. Bajo las leyes de crédito del consumidor este factor puede ser la razón para que un prestamista le niegue crédito a un solicitante.

El informe de crédito puede incluir los pagos atrasados que se efectuaron por un período de siete años. La información adversa también puede incluir cualquier fallo judicial o quiebra. Recientemente la ley sobre quiebra fue modificada y el período que dicha información puede ser divulgada por las agencias de información de crédito es de 10 en vez de 14 años.

La Corporación Federal de Seguro de Depósitos vela por el cumplimiento de la Ley Sobre Justa Información de Crédito en los bancos de carácter Estatal que no son miembros del Sistema de la Reserva Federal. Esta ley fue aprobada por el Congreso para proteger a los consumidores de la circulación de informes sobre el consumidor incorrectos y obsoletos. Si usted descubre que un informe sobre el consumidor incluye información incorrecta la ley requiere que la agencia de información de crédito reinvestigue y corrija o ponga al día dicha información. La agencia de información de crédito tiene que notificar a aquellos que recibieron información incorrecta o incompleta. Usted también puede exigir a la agencia de información de crédito que incluya en su expediente su versión de cualquier discrepancia o disputa ya que ésta será suministrada a cualquiera que la solicite.

Si al consumidor le niegan crédito, el puede solicitar información al respecto. Algunas agencias de información de crédito le proveerán libre de gastos una copia del informe de crédito. Si a éste no le niegan crédito, pero desea información sobre el mismo, la agencia de información de crédito puede cobrarle de $3 a $5 por una copia del informe de crédito.

QUESTIONS FROM BANK CUSTOMERS

QUESTION: Is there a grace period in which to cancel the original purchase of a certificate of deposit (CD)?

ANSWER: No, however, if you already have a certificate of deposit and it reaches its maturity date, there may be a grace period to either renew the CD or withdraw the money. Check the language on your CD.

QUESTION: What is the highest interest rate a lender can charge on a loan?

ANSWER: Maximum interest rates are controlled by the individual States and rates may vary from State to State. To find out the allowable rate for your State, contact the State Banking Authority or Commission.

QUESTION: How long can a bank put a "hold" on a check? (Delay in making funds deposited by a consumer available for withdrawal)

ANSWER: This depends on the individual bank's policy. The period may vary from immediate credit to more than 10 days on certain out-of-state banks. Banks usually consider the type of check and the payor as well as the location of the payor's bank in establishing criteria for delaying the availability of funds.

DOs AND DON'Ts

DO

Do obtain and retain deposit slips until your account has been credited, as reflected on your statement.

DON'T!

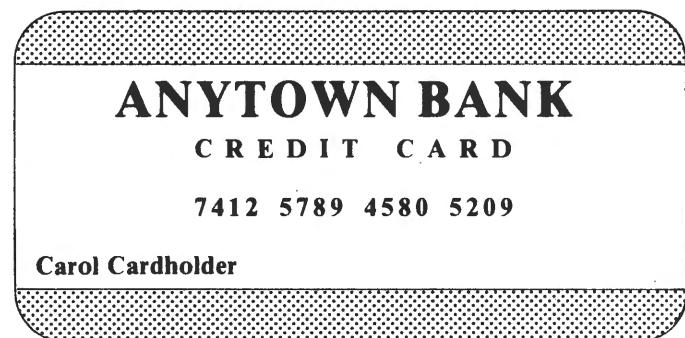

Don't wait more than 24 hours to report lost or stolen cards.

DO

Do keep a list of your credit card numbers and immediately notify all card issuers if your credit cards are lost or stolen.

YOU ARE LIABLE FOR UNAUTHORIZED CREDIT CARD USE ONLY IF:

1. The card was issued at your request.
2. The card issuer provided some means, such as a line for your signature or a photo, for stores that accept the card to identify you as the person authorized to use it.
3. The card issuer notified you of your maximum potential $50 liability.
4. The card issuer provided you with a self-addressed envelope or form to notify them of loss or theft.

REMEMBER CONSUMERS ARE PROTECTED BY THE TRUTH IN LENDING ACT!

The TILA requires creditors to disclose credit finance charges and annual percentage rates. The TILA protects consumers against unauthorized credit card use. The TILA regulates the advertising of credit terms. The TILA gives the consumer cancellation rights when a home is used as security in a credit transaction. For additional information about the TILA, request a copy of the pamphlet "Truth In Lending Act" from the FDIC.

WHAT YOU SHOULD KNOW ABOUT SUPERVISORY AGENCIES

If you have a consumer or civil rights complaint against a lending institution regulated by one of these supervisory agencies, you are urged to first try to resolve your problem directly with the institution. If, however, you are unable to do so, please write to the supervisory agency that regulates your financial institution.

If you are unable to decide which agency to contact, call the FDIC on the toll free number - 800-424-5488.

OFFICE OF THE COMPTROLLER OF THE CURRENCY

The Office of the Comptroller of the Currency (OCC) was established in 1863 as a bureau of the Treasury Department. It is headed by the Comptroller who is appointed by the President, with the advice and consent of the Senate, for a 5-year term. The OCC regulates national banks.

Comptroller of the Currency, Consumer Community & Fair Lending, Examination Division, Washington, D.C. 20219

FEDERAL RESERVE SYSTEM

The Federal Reserve System (FRS) was established in 1913. It is headed by a seven member Board of Governors, each of whom is appointed by the President with the advice and consent of the Senate for a 14 year term. The President selects two Board members to serve 4-year terms as Chairman and Vice-Chairman. The FRS regulates State-chartered banks that are members of the FRS.

Division of Consumer & Community Affairs, Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, 20th and Constitution Avenue, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20551

FEDERAL HOME LOAN BANK BOARD

The Federal Home Loan Bank Board (FHLBB) was established in 1932. It is headed by a bi-partisan three-member Board. Members of the Board are appointed by the President with the advice and consent of the Senate. Each member is appointed for a 4-year term. The Board is headed by a Chairman who is designated by the President. The Board regulates federally chartered savings and loan associations and supervises the Federal Home Loan Bank System and the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation (FSLIC).

Department of Consumer & Civil Rights, Federal Home Loan Bank Board, 1700 G Street, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20552

FEDERAL DEPOSIT INSURANCE CORPORATION

The Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation (FDIC) was created in 1933 as the third federal bank regulatory agency. It is headed by a three-member Board of Directors, no more than two of whom may be of the same political party. Two of the Directors are appointed by the President with the advice and consent of the Senate for 6-year terms, and one of those two is elected by the Board to be Chairman. The Comptroller of the Currency is the third Board member and serves on the Board during his or her tenure as Comptroller. The FDIC regulates insured State-chartered commercial and mutual savings banks that are not members of the Federal Reserve System.

Office of Consumer and Compliance Programs, Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, 550 17th Street, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20429

NATIONAL CREDIT UNION ADMINISTRATION

The National Credit Union Administration (NCUA) was created in 1970 to charter, examine, supervise and provide insurance for all federal credit unions and those state-chartered credit unions which apply and are accepted for insurance. The NCUA is headed by a seven-member Board appointed by the President with the advice and consent of the Senate, for 6-year terms. The Board consists of a Chairman, named by the President, and one member from each of the six regions.
