FDIC to Host a Meeting of the Advisory Committee of State Regulators

WASHINGTON – The Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation (FDIC) will convene a meeting of its Advisory Committee of State Regulators on Thursday, March 18, at 1:00 p.m. ET. The Committee members will discuss and receive updates on a range of policy issues regarding the regulation of state-chartered financial institutions throughout the U.S. and its territories.

The meeting's agenda includes a discussion of state banking conditions, a report on FDIC research relating to community banking and agricultural lending, a dialogue regarding state-federal coordination, and an update on the FDIC's office of innovation – FDiTech. On November 19, 2019, the FDIC Board of Directors approved the formation of the Advisory Committee of State Regulators as a forum where state banking regulators and the FDIC can discuss a variety of current and emerging issues that have potential implications regarding the regulation and supervision of state-chartered financial institutions. Information about the Committee's work, including a list of its members, is available on the Committee's website.

The virtual meeting is open to the public via live webcast.

Congress created the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation in 1933 to restore public confidence in the nation's banking system. It promotes the safety and soundness of these institutions by identifying, monitoring and addressing risks to which they are exposed. The FDIC receives no federal tax dollars — insured financial institutions fund its operations.
