

allow for the movement of any fluids into a USDW. Subsequent to the initial permitting of several Class I Municipal Wells in Florida, some facilities have exhibited movement of fluids into the USDW as determined through monitoring of the injection activity. The movement of fluid is thought to occur because of the unique geology in Florida. EPA is proposing a change in the regulations for Class I Municipal Wells in certain portions of Florida only. One proposed alternative to existing regulations would allow for the migration of fluids if the facilities meet certain requirements prior to injection. In the alternative, injected fluids must meet primary drinking water standards and other health based standards prior to injection or the facility must demonstrate through an engineering study that these limits would be met prior to any fluids reaching the base of the USDW. The agency is interested in soliciting ideas regarding this alternative as well as any other alternatives.
