FDIC PUBLISHES SEMIANNUAL AGENDA OF REGULATIONS

The Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation has published its semiannual agenda of regulations to inform the public of the Corporation's regulatory actions and to heighten public participation in the rulemaking process.

Many of the regulations included in this agenda are in response to the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation Improvement Act of 1991 and the Financial Institutions Reform, Recovery, and Enforcement Act of 1989. Of the 31 final or potential changes to the FDIC's regulations, one is in the prerule stage, 10 are in the proposed rule stage, nine are in the final rule stage and 11 are completed actions.

The regulation in the prerule stage relates to risk-based capital standards.

Regulations in the proposed rule stage include deposit insurance coverage, external audits, accounting standards, FDIC employee standards of conduct, activities of insured state-chartered banks, notices of branch closings, foreign banks and safety and soundness standards.

In the final rule stage are proposals on real estate lending standards, golden parachute and indemnification payments, capital maintenance, insider transactions, changes in senior executive officers or directors, deposit liabilities, extension of corporate powers and contracts adverse to safety and soundness.

Among the completed actions are: Prompt corrective action, deposit insurance assessments, deposit insurance coverage, unsafe banking practices, advertisement of membership, fees upon entrance to or exit from the Bank Insurance Fund or Savings Association Insurance Fund and minority- and women-owned firms outreach program.

The FDIC's complete semiannual agenda was published in the Federal Register on November 3, 1992.
